Quick Snapshot Q&A About the New Record In Stores May 2, 2006

[Interview with 10c Manager, Tim Bierman, and Eddie Vedder]

Q. How would you describe the new record to the 10c fans - what can they expect to hear on May 2?

A. " We've got all the instruments going full force, yet coexisting. It's like we took our aggressions and shaped something positive from them in a very direct manner. Though I'd qualify most of the record as hard-driving, the two quiet ones (Parachutes and Come Back) could be our best attempts yet at pulling the disguises off of loss of life, and even love."

Q. What are some of the themes in first single, World Wide Suicide?

A. It's just an observation. One of those small things that comes to you, and then becomes substantiated the more you look around.

Q. After 15 years together, what would you say is the biggest difference between your approach to this record and previous records?

A. Our band is like an old car, and this record is our new engine.
